

APPLYHOW WILL I APPLY TODAY'S LESSON?

Abraham's servant isn't one of the main characters in the Bible, like Abraham and Isaac are. In fact, we don't even really know his name. But Abraham's servant did what it doesn't take a main character to do—he was faithful.

TRUTHA TRUTH TO REMEMBER TODAY'S LESSON

Kate wanted a new puppy for Christmas, but her parents weren't sure she was ready to handle the responsibility. Instead of having a bad attitude, Kate decided that she would do her best to stay faithful, even in the little chores around the house. She kept her room clean everyday. She helped her mom set the table. She did her homework on time without being asked. And guess what? On Christmas morning, she saw a strange looking box under the Christmas tree. As she carefully opened it, a tiny new puppy bounced into her lap! Kate's parents watched her stay faithful in the little things, and they knew they could trust her to be faithful in the big things.

Just like Kate was faithful in small chores around the house, Abraham's servant was faithful in whatever he was asked to do. When Abraham had a special mission for his servant to do, he knew he could trust his servant to do right in the big things. All of us can stay faithful like that servant. We don't need special talents, riches, looks, or popularity. When God sees we are faithful in the small things, God will trust us and use us with the bigger things.

Question #1: The Bible doesn't say.
 Question #2: Because he was faithful.
