

APPLYHOW WILL I APPLY TODAY'S LESSON?

No matter where you are, you can do your job for the Lord. When you are working for the Lord from your heart, your heart will follow your work. Your love will grow. But that starts with a choice. You can do your work with a bad attitude, or you can do the best job you can do with the best spirit you can have.

Whether you are a little servant girl or just a regular girl or boy in your home, school, and church, when you serve others as unto the Lord, others will notice. As a result, God will be glorified through you.

TRUTHA TRUTH TO REMEMBER TODAY'S LESSON

"Eric!" called his dad from downstairs one Saturday afternoon. "It's time to mow the lawn." Slowly, Eric stood up from the floor and began to trudge downstairs. He was in the middle of playing a game and the last thing he wanted to do was mow the lawn. But then he stopped and thought about what he was doing. Eric didn't want to displease the Lord with his grumbling and complaining. Instead, he decided to have a good attitude when he mowed the lawn. By doing so, he wasn't just obeying his dad, he was also pleasing God.

If Naaman's maid hadn't done her work as to the Lord and had held anger and bitterness in her heart, she would have missed so much. She would have missed being trusted by her master and his wife. She would have missed the joy of seeing Naaman healed by the prophet Elisha. She would have missed having a master who came to know the true God. She would have missed the blessing the Lord gives to those who live and work for Him. But what about you? Don't miss out—do your work to the very best of your ability and watch God bless you.
